- II. I.V. Stalin - A Short Biography -----68 hours
- III. Soviet Nation in its Fight for Vindication and Growth

The course is the same as Course No. 1 except that twenty additional hours are devoted to the catechism of soldiers by sergeants.

E. COURSES No. 5 and 6 (for soldiers who voluntarily remain in the service after their period of regular enlistment). The course fully covers the history of the VKP(b) and also:

- 1. U.S. imperialism - main bulwark of reaction and organization of a new world war----- 6 hours
- 2. Methods of the imperialist intelligence agencies----- 6 hours

TOTAL: 160 hours

2. Directive No. 024 dated 31 August 1950 and signed by Col. Gen. Kuznetsov in the name of GPU (Chief Political Directorate of the Soviet Armed Forces) instructs what forms and methods are to be followed by the political organs of the Soviet Armed Forces. The Central Committee of the Communist Party lays down the ideological line which is guided by love of the Fatherland, love of Stalin and hatred for America and England. The next political instruction course is to start in December 1950 and will end 1 October 1951. Each class is to consist of 25-30 men.

25X1A *   Comment: The language employed in the outline of the program is exalted and sweeping throughout: "warrior", "sacred", "invulnerable", "glorious", etc. Noteworthy also is usage of the term "American-English" instead of the more common "Anglo-American". It may be indicative of the reported change in Soviet tactics in which America is pictured as the chief villain, "US imperialism" being "the main bulwark of reaction" and the United States chiefly responsible for "organizing the new world war").

25X1A **   Comment: The Russian terminology employs the word "soldier" to apply to all enlisted grades below the rank of sergeant).
